

Thank you to all of the students who submitted to The Silver Spectrum this year. Although I wasn't able to use all of the work, I enjoyed reading it. It was a pleasure developing relationships with some of the talented students here at The Lake.

In the fall, I hope to post additional chapters from our lengthier submissions. I would also like to post the winning entries from our Fahrenheit 451 contest.

Remember to look for The First Line contest, too. There was a competitive lot from which to choose this year. I am eagerly anticipating the selection of next year's winner.

Enjoy your summer. Happy Writing.
